

MUTUAL CONFIDENTIALITY NONDISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

This MUTUAL CONFIDENTIALITY AND NONDISCLOSURE AGREEMENT (the “Agreement”) is entered into between

Sigma Labs

BLUPRYNT, INC., and . (“You”), as of the date the last party signs (the “Effective Date”). BLUPRYNT and YOU may be referred to herein individually as a “Party” and collectively as the “Parties”. Bluprynt and You intend to engage in discussions regarding a potential business relationship or opportunity (the “Purpose”), in which each Party (“Discloser”) may disclose sensitive information to the other (“Recipient”).

1. As used herein, “Confidential Information” shall mean any and all technical and non-technical information disclosed by the Parties, either directly or indirectly, in any form (whether in oral, written, graphic, electronic or machine-readable form), which may include without limitation: (a) patent applications, (b) trade secrets, and (c) other proprietary or confidential information, including, without limitation, ideas, technology, works of authorship, models, inventions, know-how, processes, algorithms, software programs, software source documents, information related to current, future, and proposed products and services, information concerning research, experimental work, development, design details or specifications, engineering, financial information, procurement requirements, purchasing, customer lists, investors, employees, business and contractual relationships, business forecasts, sales and merchandising, and marketing plans and information. Confidential Information does not include any information the Recipient can prove: (i) was in or comes into the public domain through no fault of the Recipient, (ii) rightfully was in or comes into the Recipient’s possession free of any obligation of confidence and (iii) was in the lawful possession of the Recipient before the information was disclosed by the Discloser.

2. The Parties agree that at all times and notwithstanding any termination or expiration of this Agreement they will hold in strict confidence and not disclose to any third party any Confidential Information of the other Party, except as approved in writing by the Discloser, and will use the Confidential Information for no purpose other than for the Purpose of this Agreement. The Recipient shall protect the Confidential Information from inadvertent or unauthorized disclosure, access, or use in the same manner as it protects its own Confidential Information of a similar nature, but in no event less than reasonable care.

3. The Recipient may disclose Confidential Information to its and its affiliates’ employees, officers, directors, professional advisers and agents (“Representatives”) that need to know the Confidential Information for the Purpose, on the basis that the Recipient (i) informs those Representatives of the confidential nature of the Confidential Information before it is disclosed and (ii) procures that those Representatives comply with confidentiality obligations no less stringent than those set out in this Agreement. The Recipient shall be liable for the actions or omission of its Representatives in relation to the Confidential Information as if they were the actions or omissions of the Recipient.

4. Notwithstanding the above, the Recipient may disclose certain Confidential Information without violating the obligations of this Agreement, to the extent the disclosure is required by a valid order of a court or other governmental body having jurisdiction, provided that the Recipient provides the Discloser with reasonable prior written notice of such disclosure, to the extent permissible by law, and makes a reasonable effort to obtain, or to assist the Discloser in obtaining, a protective order preventing or limiting the disclosure and/or requiring that the Confidential Information so disclosed be used only for the purposes for which the law or regulation required, or for which the order was issued.

5. The Recipient shall immediately notify the Discloser upon discovery of any loss or unauthorized disclosure of the Confidential Information.

6. Upon termination or expiration of the Agreement, or upon written request of the Discloser, the Recipient shall promptly return to the Discloser or destroy all documents and other tangible materials representing the Confidential Information and all copies thereof.

7. The terms of confidentiality under this Agreement shall not be construed to limit either Party's right to independently develop or acquire products without use of or reference to the other Party's Confidential Information. The Parties agree that they will not: (i) modify, reverse engineer, decompile, create other works from, or disassemble, or (ii) disclose, upload, transmit, export or otherwise make available to any training, self-improving, machine-learning software, algorithms, hardware or other artificial intelligence tools or aids of any kind, any data, software programs, hardware, prototypes, samples, and other tangible objects contained in the Confidential Information of the other Party, in either case, without the prior written consent of the other Party.

8. The Recipient recognizes and agrees that nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed as granting any property rights, by license or otherwise, to any Confidential Information, or to any invention or any patent, copyright, trademark, or other intellectual property right that has issued or that may issue, based on the Confidential Information. The Confidential Information is provided "AS IS" without any warranty, express or implied, of any kind.

9. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as establishing any joint venture or other business relationship between the Parties, or as representing any commitment by either Party to enter into any license or other agreement by implication or otherwise.

10. It is understood that any Confidential Information is disclosed on a non-exclusive basis and that the Parties remain free to deal with any other third party at any time at their own option.

11. The Recipient shall not reproduce the Confidential Information in any form except as required to accomplish the intent of this Agreement. Any reproduction by the Recipient of any Confidential Information shall remain the property of the Discloser and shall contain any and all confidential or proprietary notices or legends which appear on the original, unless otherwise authorized in writing by the Discloser.

12. This Agreement shall terminate two (2) years after the Effective Date, or may be terminated by either Party at any time upon thirty (30) days written notice to the other Party, provided that the Parties' non-use and non-disclosure obligations under this Agreement shall survive termination of the Agreement and shall be binding upon the Parties' heirs, successors and assigns in perpetuity.

13. Without prejudice to any other rights or remedies that each Party may have, each Party acknowledges and agrees that damages alone would not be an adequate remedy for any breach of the terms of this Agreement by the other Party. As such, each Party shall be entitled to the remedies of injunctions, specific performance or other equitable relief for any threatened or actual breach of this Agreement.

14. Neither Party shall not assign, transfer, mortgage, charge, subcontract, delegate, declare a trust over or deal in any other manner with any of its rights and obligations under this Agreement without the consent of the other Party. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties. A waiver of any right or remedy under this Agreement or by law is only effective if given in writing and shall not be deemed a waiver of any subsequent right or remedy. If any provision or clause of this Agreement is or becomes invalid, illegal or unenforceable, it shall be deemed deleted but that shall not affect the validity and enforceability of the rest of this Agreement. This Agreement may not be amended except by a writing signed by both Parties hereto.

15. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the state of New York without reference to conflict of laws principles. Any disputes under this Agreement may be brought in the state and federal courts located in New York, New York, and the Parties hereby consent to the personal jurisdiction and venue of these courts.
